Fresh off a win at No. 4/8 Pacific, the Huskers return to the NU Coliseum as host of this weekend's First Tier Challenge. The last time Nebraska played in front of the home folks, the Huskers suffered their first regular-season home loss -- a 3-1 decision to No. 1 Stanford in the State Farm - NACWAA Volleyball Classic -- since 1993. The consensus No. 2 team in the country, Nebraska is led by returning All-Americans Christy Johnson and Allison Weston. Johnson had 55 assists in the win over Pacific and joined teammates Weston, Billie Winsett and Lisa Reitsma on the all-tournament team. Reitsma, a 6-4 sophomore, was named the MVP of the Asics/UOP Invitational last weekend and currently leads the team with 4.7 kills per game.

KANSAS STATE

Under second-year Head Coach Jim Moore, the Wildcats are coming off their first winning campaign (14-13) since 1988 and are excited about the 1995 season. Led by Omaha native Yolanda Young, who led K-State in kills each of her first two years, the Wildcats return five starters and welcome eight newcomers. Young, a second-team All-Big Eight selection a year ago, will shift to the play-set-hitter position to take advantage of her offensive ability. Only a junior, she is on pace to set the school's all-time kill mark. Expected to start at middle blocker is Kate DeClerk, who averaged 1.2 blocks per game last season. Last weekend, KSU lost to Long Beach State, 1-3, and beat Utah State, 3-0, in the Long Beach State Tournament.

PURDUE

Last weekend, Purdue went 1-2 at the SunBank Invitational in Gainesville, Fla., sandwiching a win over Rice in between losses to Oklahoma and No. 3/7 Florida. Starting her first season with the Boilers, Head Coach Joey Vrazel is just the second coach in the storied history of Purdue volleyball. She replaces Carol Dewey, who retired last season after 20 years at the helm. Vrazel will try to improve on last season's 6-23 mark, the worst in Purdue history. A talented trio of juniors return to aid Vrazel's quest, led by 5-10 middle blocker Lauri Grimes. Grimes had a team-high 42 kills in last weekend's tournament and is also among the team leaders in digs (28), hitting percentage (.225) and blocks (5). Last season, the Boilers lost to Nebraska, 3-0, in the Mortar Board Purdue Premier in West Lafayette.

WISCONSIN

An NCAA tournament participant last season, Wisconsin lost to eventual Husker foe George Washington in the first round, 3-2. Led by former Nebraska assistant coach John Cook, the Badgers received votes in both preseason polls and should challenge for their third consecutive NCAA tournament appearance in 1995. The Badgers are led by second-team All-Mideast region selection Laura Abbinante, who averaged 12.25 assists per game last season. A youthful squad, Wisconsin's other top returnees, include sophomores Heather Dodaro (MB), Lauren Burny (OH) and Amy Lee (OH). Last weekend, the Badgers split four matches, beating Pepperdine and Southwest Missouri State and losing to Arkansas and Houston. Wisconsin played Northern Illinois on Tuesday.

WINSETT A LEADER ON AND OFF THE COURT

So you think you know the Huskers. Starting this season, we'll bring you a feature in each match program on a Nebraska Volleyball player. This week you'll get to know a little more about outside hitter Billie Winsett.

Each morning last summer, the Roosters would cackle at 6 a.m. and as the sun rose on the Winsett's Boonville, Ind. farm, Billie began her day. Following a running and weightlifting workout, Winsett went to work on the farm. Whether it was building a fence, hoeing fields, or bailing hay, Winsett stayed busy until the sun faded to the West.

It's a way of life that some may shun while others may try to escape. For Billie, it's a way of life she likes and will resume once she leaves college.

"I like being outdoors and being on the farm," she said. "It's such a different feeling, than being in the city. It clears my mind and lifts my spirits up a lot. It makes me realize who I am."

A 5-11 senior outside hitter for the No. 2-ranked Nebraska volleyball team, Winsett is an anomaly in today's world of volleyball. Growing in popularity across the country, the sport is still most often associated with the beach, bikinis and Bud Light sponsorship. A Midwestern farm girl, Winsett accepted volleyball as just another means of competition. A means that also included sewing contests, piano lessons, and cooking.

Besides bake-offs and State Fair competitions, volleyball was a natural road to take, considering her three older sisters competed at the Division I level. Though she says she began playing volleyball with the garage wall as a child, Billie could always count on either Becky (Purdue) Beth (Southern Illinois) or Barb (Illinois) to teach her about the game.

"I got pushed around a little bit because I was the youngest, but I watched a lot of their sports and saw what type of people they became. And I liked the way they lived their life."

A devout Christian, Billie models her life around her upbringing and the words of Christ. Every night she reads her Bible and continually strives to become a better person.

"It's the most important part of my life," said Winsett. "I enjoy the Church I attend, my pastor is a huge volleyball fan and my parents raised me to go Church on Sunday. I was taught that everything on this world will someday pass away, but not your faith."

"And I'm trying to reach out even more in that area," she continued. "I want to contribute to the team as much as possible, but if I can change somebody's life for the better, then that will make me even happier."

On the volleyball court, Winsett also continues to try and make herself better. In addition to farming this summer, Winsett worked three weeks of volleyball camp, helped teach the sport at her high school and competed in the Hoosier State Games. Playing with a group of Boonville stars that included her three sisters, Billie's team went undefeated in the Hoosier Games and won the gold medal.

"Although I wasn't in Lincoln with my teammates, the team I played with in Indiana was very dear to me," said Winsett. "I was also able to practice at the high school with my sister setting to me."

Winsett furthered her volleyball experience with her third consecutive Olympic Festival last summer, despite being unable to tryout because of mononucleosis. Janet Kruse is the only other Husker to compete on three Olympic Festival teams.

Competing with her sisters at a young age obviously helped Billie as she had an immediate impact at Nebraska, playing in each match as a freshman. As a sophomore, she had the second-highest kill total on the team with 302 and tied the school's seventh-highest dig mark with 335.

A 1995 All-American candidate, she has played in all but one match at Nebraska, starting 34 of the last 35 matches. A year ago, Winsett earned second-team All-Big Eight and All-Mideast Region honors with a .270 hitting percentage and per game averages of 2.8 kills and 3.14 digs, numbers she wants to improve on this season.

After struggling with just 12 total kills in the opening tournament against Penn State and Stanford, Winsett came alive last week at the Asics/UOP Invitational in Stockton, Calif., collecting all-tournament team numbers with 30 kills and 21 digs in two matches against Santa Clara and nationally-ranked Pacific.

One of three seniors on the team, Winsett and her Husker teammates dream of a national title. It's a dream that could become a reality with the addition of the nation's No. 1-ranked recruiting class and a blend of savvy veterans.

"Every team in the country that wins a national championship has to have a player like Billie Winsett," said Head Coach Terry Pettit. "She so consistent."

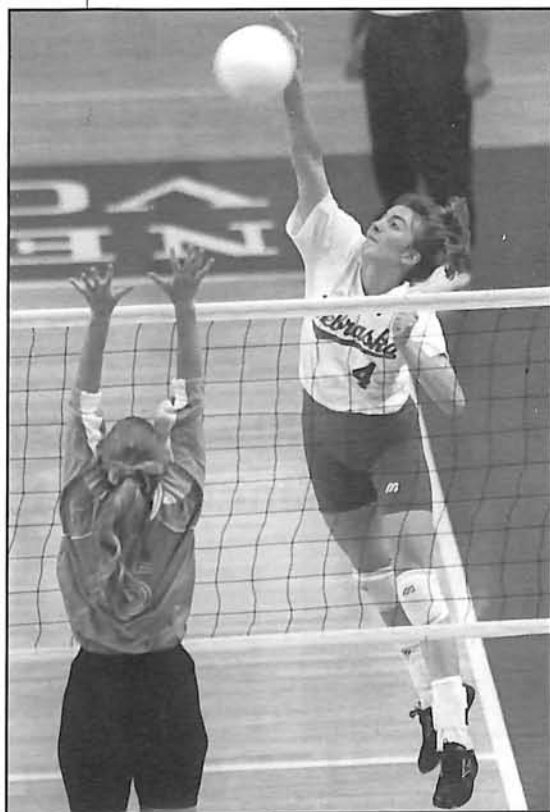

Playing on the left side, the more difficult of the two outside hitter positions, Winsett has the athleticism to hit a number of different sets.

"Billie is a solid volleyball player," said Pettit. "She can sideout on combination plays, quick plays and can go up and hit over the block."

When this season is behind her, Winsett will return to the farm life with another important part of her life -- her husband. A former football player at Nebraska, Greg "Fletch" Fletcher and Billie were engaged on January 1, 1995 just before the Orange Bowl.

"We have everything in common," she gushed. "He's tired of Omaha (where he is in Medical School) and wants the get as far away from the city as possible."

That's fine with Billie, who says her dream is to live in the middle of nowhere and to have a ranch and raise all kinds of animals.

A second-team All-Big Eight and All-Mideast Region selection last season, Winsett is striving for All-America honors in 1995.

NEBRASKA FACILITIES ... FINEST IN THE NATION

NEBRASKA COLISEUM

The home of the Husker Volleyball team for the past 20 seasons, the Nebraska Coliseum, originally constructed in 1926, was recently renovated to provide a more comfortable atmosphere for coaches, players and fans. A project that began in February, 1991, the renovation was completely finished in the fall of 1993. Among the additions to the Coliseum were a completely new state-of-the-art sound system, a new scoreboard, overhead lights and a new floor. Offices for coaches and administrators and a conference/media room were renovated to provide a more comfortable working environment. This past summer, new bleacher seats were added on the North side. Hanging from the Coliseum rafters are banners celebrating Nebraska's 18 Big Eight Championships and its 13 NCAA appearances.

THE TRADITION CONTINUES

NATIONAL RANKINGS

The Huskers are one of only five teams to be ranked in the AVCA top 25 rankings for all 159 weeks, 145 of which have been in the top 10. Last season, Nebraska ended the season ranked No. 1 for the first time in school history. Only four other schools have held the top spot longer than the Huskers.

COACHING

Head Coach Terry Pettit carries a 594-124 (.815) record into the 1995 season, his 19th at Nebraska. He will win his 600th match this season, becoming just the sixth active coach to do so. Long-time Assistant Coach Cathy Noth gives the program stability in her seventh season in Lincoln. At Nebraska, one can expect the very best in coaching as a number of former assistant coaches are now Division I head coaches, including John Cook at Wisconsin and Russ Rose at Penn State.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislation in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. Founded in Lincoln, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a state educational system now comprising four campuses under the guidance of a Board of Regents and a central administration.

The university's flagship campus, the University of Nebraska, includes the agricultural components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Nebraska is the state's only land-grant university and its major comprehensive institution of higher education.

Bill Byrne

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

A new chapter in the Huskers' rich athletic tradition began on June 26, 1992, when former Nebraska Chancellor Dr. Graham Spanier introduced Bill Byrne to succeed longtime athletic director Bob Devaney. Byrne became the 10th athletic director in school history and the third since 1962.

An energetic 50-year-old, Byrne came to Nebraska following a highly-successful eight-year stint as athletic director at the University of Oregon. Recently re-lected as secretary-treasurer of the College Football Association and a member of that organization's board of directors, Byrne heads into his third volleyball season as NU athletic director.

A tireless worker ever since he arrived in Lincoln as athletic director-designate on Nov. 1, 1992, Byrne officially took the reins of the athletic department on Jan. 4, 1993.

A member of the NCAA special events committee, Byrne is recognized as a national leader in intercollegiate athletics. He is continuing to make an aggressive effort, along with other Big Eight athletic directors, to place Nebraska and other conference officials on key NCAA committees in an effort to better represent the views of Big Eight member institutions. He was also instrumental in the development of the Big 12 Conference.

An educator by profession, Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the Master of Education Dean for Doane College. The Byrne's have two sons and a new grandchild, Nicholas. Nicholas' parents, Greg and Regina, live in Medford, Ore., where Greg is an athletic fund-raiser for the University of Oregon. Their other son, Bill, works as a service manager for Visa in San Mateo, Calif.

Barbara Hibner

SR. WOMEN'S ADMIN.

Dr. Barbara A. Hibner begins her 17th year at Nebraska and her third as an associate athletic director. In addition to her responsibilities with compliance for the entire athletic program, Hibner continues to serve as the Huskers' senior women's administrator.

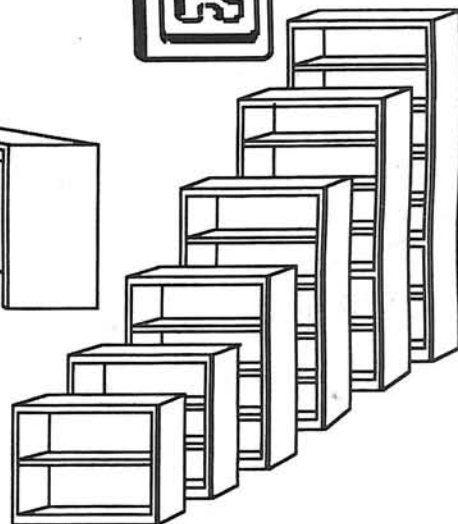

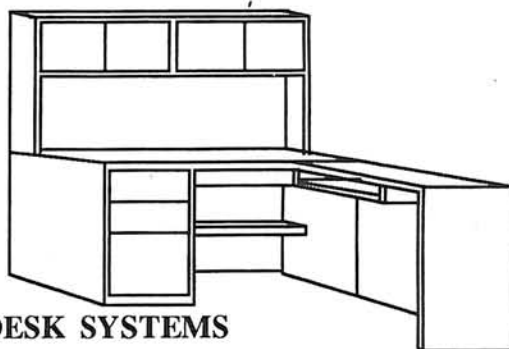

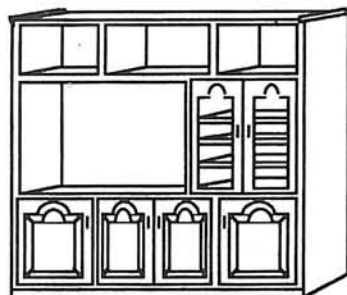

She is a native of Gettysburg, Pa., and earned her B.S. degree from Penn State University in 1964. She continued her education at the State University of New York at Cortland, receiving her M.S. degree in 1970 and she earned her Ph.D. in psychology of motor learning and administration in 1977.

As an experienced administrator, teacher and coach, she demonstrates both the leadership and administrative "know-how" which has contributed to the success of the women's programs.

Dr. Hibner is a member of the National Association for Collegiate Directors of Athletics, the Council of Collegiate Women's Athletic Administrators, the National Association of Athletic Marketing and Development, and the Lincoln chapter of the Administrative Management Society. She has served on the Board of Directors of the University of Nebraska Federal Credit Union, is a past president of the Nebraska Association for Administrative Development and the past chairperson for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's National Softball Committee. In 1994, she was the YWCA Tribute to Women award recipient.

She has been nominated for appointment to the NCAA Division I women's volleyball committee.
